

HIGH SCHOOL Leadership Conference

12/6/24

On December 6, 2024, high school student leaders and their advisors will gather at Southern Connecticut State University for an exciting full-day leadership conference designed to take your skills to the next level.

This student-organized event will feature hands-on, interactive workshops on collaboration, communication, diversity awareness, problem-solving, decision-making, mental health, and financial literacy —everything you need to unleash your unique talents and become a stronger leader!

But that's not all! The highlight of the day will be an inspiring keynote from Kendrick Moore, the CAS-CIAC Assistant Director of Equity and Leadership and a motivational speaker who knows how to empower students like YOU to reach new heights. Kendrick's powerful message, "Mastering the Morning," will give you the tools to own your day, stay accountable, and be intentional in everything you do. His coaching strategies have transformed countless individuals and organizations, and now it's your turn!
